"Changing the Narrative, one voice at a time."

Field Trips of the Mind - JAPANESE CULTURE

Let's venture to the land of origami, sushi & torii where we will explore Japan . . . and then make amazing new art & stories!

Tink Tank Artists will embark on a virtual group exploration through bamboo forests and iconic torii gates . . . and then learn how to draw them. We will scale Japanese Castle walls and naturally new skills and stories will develop. Together our artists will explore a new topic each week! Projects will promote teamwork & allow for creative, learner-driven exploration. Our themes will align with the seasons (spring/ summer), and the artists will have a chance to develop new characters as they enjoy working on individual and collaborative group projects.

MENTOR INFORMATION: The Mentor is Ellen Mazza, a teacher and an artist who is fluent in Japanese and lived in Japan for 6 years. She will co-guide with her sister, Kristin Kucia.
